

An adverb tells more about a verb. Some tell when or where about the verb.

Tammy went with her yesterday.

Circle the adverb. Underline the verb it tells about.

1. I went back to school yesterday.
2. Mary was in line first.
3. Next, we went to sleep.
4. My dad cooks on the grill.
5. First, mom baked a cake.
6. A firefighter visited our school today.

Underline the prepositional phrase in each sentence. Circle the preposition.

1. My friend Katie leaves during spring break.
2. Barb collects butterflies in big jars.
3. We stood near the fence.
4. Mrs. Sparks stood beside her desk.